

The SOUTH-CAROLINA Gazette.

NEW-YORK, Febr. 2.

Extract of a letter from Albany, dated the 22d ult.

THIS day 2 French prisoners were brought in here, who were taken within 2 miles, and in sight of Crown Point, by a party of our people under the command of Capt. Rodgers: One of them is a farmer and the other a Butcher; and were both taken, driving a sleigh with 4 or 5 quarters of beef, from Crown Point to Ticonderoga. Captain Rodgers would have brought off the sleigh with the beef, but observing a number of men coming upon him from Crown Point on their skates, he cut a hole in the ice and sunk it, and made the best of his way with his 2 prisoners. The Frenchmen give out, that there are but 100 men at Crown Point, and 300 at Ticonderoga.

Extract of another Letter from Albany, dated the 22d ult. "Captain Rodgers being out with a party of 30 men, came upon tracks of a great number of French and Indians. He immediately sent back 6 of his men to the commander of fort William Henry at the lake, to acquaint him with the affair, and that he might transmit the account to Albany, as he supposed the enemy were gone that way, having track'd them as far as the fort at the Carrying place."

Febr. 16. An express which arrived here from New-York last tue-day, brought letters which came in the packet, with the mails from the general post-office in London, that arrived there on the 4th instant, by which we learn. That the accounts which have been transmitted of the success of his majesty's arms in the action near Lake George, on the 8th day of September last, and of the considerable reinforcements sent by the New England governments, had been laid before his majesty; and that his majesty has been pleased to express his sense of the great zeal and spirit which this government has so strongly manifested, in so cheerfully and effectually promoting the necessary and important service they engaged in.—And further, we learn, That his majesty would take an early opportunity of laying the particulars of their conduct before the parliament; and, That as his majesty is sensible, that the expenses which the New-England colonies have incurred, though cheerfully borne, cannot but be burthensome to his brave and good subjects, he will at the same time recommend to the parliament, to grant them such assistance in consideration of the charges they have borne, as their circumstances should require, and as will enable them vigorously to pursue the great and necessary work which has been so cheerfully undertaken.

By the courier that came to town from Albany on the 7th instant, we learn, That capt. Grant, belonging to Connecticut, who commanded a scouting party from fort Edward, having with him 7 men, went to discover whether any of the enemy were near the lake, and perceiving a considerable body of them were near, coming upon them, they determined to scatter, and make the best of their way to the fort. One of the men in his return, sat down on a fallen tree to rest himself, having for a day or two before lost his way, and was very much fatigued, looking round him, he espied an Indian with a gun presented, who immediately firing, the man fell behind the tree as if dead; when the Indian drew towards him, he presented his gun over the tree, fired and killed the Indian on the spot, and then immediately went to scalp him; but just as he had cut round the skin, before he could take off the scalp, he discovered near 20 Indians approaching; upon which he ran with all speed, and got into fort Edward, but so fatigued, that it's thought he could not live.
